Salute, twenty-one guns. The Maharaja is head of Kuchhwaha clan of Rajputs, tracing descent from Rama, the celebrated king of Ayodhya (modern Oudh). The modern capital, Jaipur, was built in A.D. 1728 by Maharaja Jai Singh, the ancient capital being Amber, founded in A.D. 1150. The administration is carried on by a council consisting of ten members, the Maharaja exercising the supreme civil and criminal authority within his territories. The State of Jaipur comprises an area of 15,579 square miles, and has a population of 2,658,066. The State maintains a Transport Corps, organised in 1890, the strength of which is 1 superintendent, 8 officers, and 695 non-commissioned officers and men. The present Maharaja, apart from being a wise and capable administrator, takes a deep interest in all matters affecting the welfare of the British Empire. Among his many princely liberalities may be mentioned his subscription of Rs.1,600,000 towards founding a permanent Famine Fund for India, Rs.100,000 towards the Transvaal War Fund, Rs.400,000 added to the Famine Fund in memory of the Queen-Empress Victoria, Rs.250,000 towards the All India Victoria Memorial, Rs.300,000 for the promotion of the Imperial Institute, London, and Rs.75,000 towards King Edward's Hospital Fund; in commemoration of the visit of the Prince of Wales to Jaipur in 1905 he gave an additional Rs.300,000 to the Famine Fund; on the occasion of the Delhi Durbar of January 1903, his senior Maharanee, Her late Highness Maharanee Jadanjee, subscribed Rs.100,000 to the Famine Fund, and added to the same fund another Rs.100,000 in honour of the visit of the Princess of Wales in 1905; to the Women's Medical College, Hospital and Nursery School, Delhi, he gave Rs.300,000; to Prince of Wales's) Relief Fund Rs.100,000; to Imperial Indian Relief Fund Rs.100,000; his total contributions in connection with the Great War amount to Rs.28,83622. Is a very catholic Hindu in his religion, and when invited in 1902 to be present at the coronation of King Edward VII. he travelled to England in a strict orthodox style with 125 of his officers and attendants, a whole ship being chartered for the voyage, and all eatables and drinking-water being brought from India. Heir: Maharaj-Kumar Man Singh (adopted 24 March 1921). Address: Jaipur, Rajputana, India.
